Those who answered in the affirmative were further asked, “How do they address him instead?” 48% said they address him by referring to him as ‘father of so-and-so’, 21% said they called him by his profession (e.g Doctor Sahaab/Vakil Sahaab etc), 12% said they called out to him by saying ‘Hey you’ or ‘Are you listening’, 9% said they referred to the husband by some nickname and 10% said they addressed him by some other term of endearment.

Question: “How do they address him instead?”

The study was released by Gilani Research Foundation and carried out by Gallup & Gilani Pakistan, the Pakistani affiliate of Gallup International. The recent survey was carried out among a sample of 953 men and women in rural and urban areas of all four provinces of the country, October 16 – October 23, 2017. Error margin is estimated to be approximately  $\pm$  2-3 per cent at 95% confidence level.
