Islamabad, January 09, 2018

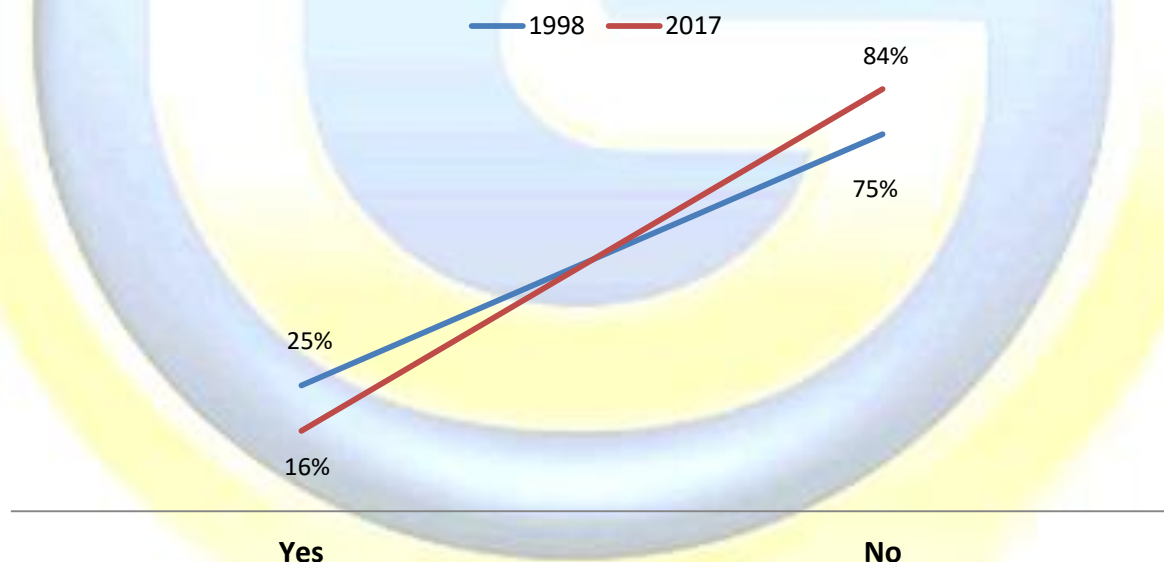

According to a Gallup & Gilani Pakistan National Survey conducted in the year 1998 (19 years ago) respondents in urban Pakistan were asked, “Would you like to have permanent residency in any country other than Pakistan?” In response, 25% respondents said yes they would like to have permanent residency in any country other than Pakistan and 75% said no they would not.

Comparative Picture: The question was asked again in 2017 to enable a concrete comparison. In 2017, 16% respondents said yes they would like to have permanent residency in any country other than Pakistan and 84% said no they would not.

Over the past 19 years, there has been a 9% decline in the proportion of Pakistanis who would like to have permanent residency in a country other than Pakistan.

This press release has been made as part of the Gallup Pakistan History Project which aims to release historical empirical polling data to wider audiences. The objective is to sustain and encourage empirical decision making in Pakistan.

Aim and Rationale for Gallup Pakistan History Project

Bilal I Gilani, who is Executive Director at Gallup Pakistan and is Director of Gallup Pakistan History Project explains the aim of the Project as follows: ‘Gallup Pakistan has been polling in Pakistan since 1979 (over 35 years). During this time millions of Pakistanis have been surveyed by over a thousand interviewers of Gallup. In 2014, Gallup Pakistan has decided to release historical Public Opinion data and this Press Release is part of Gallup Pakistan’s History Project. This endeavor is dedicated to all those who hope for a more empirical understanding of Pakistani Issues. For more information about Gallup History Project, please contact caf@gallup.com.pk.’
