Domestic Violence: 1 in 3 urban Pakistani men (31%) believe that a man has the right to hit his wife if she misbehaves. (World Justice Project and Gallup Pakistan)

Islamabad, August 6, 2018

According to the findings of the World Justice Project Report on The Rule of Law in Pakistan based on a Gallup Survey in urban Pakistan, respondents were questioned regarding their views on domestic violence to highlight the difference between the mindset of men and women. 31% men agreed that a married man has the right to hit his wife if she misbehaves, while only 20% women agreed with this statement. Such high support of domestic violence is alarming in a country where every day countless women fall victim to physical abuse at home for reasons as obnoxious as not making round chapatti.

Question: “Would you agree with the statement that a married man has the right to hit his wife if she misbehaves?”
