39 % Pakistanis opine that most of the state authorities are involved in corruption: World Values Survey and Gallup & Gilani Pakistan

(Islamabad), January 25th, 2021

According to a World Values Survey conducted by Gallup & Gilani Pakistan in 2018, 39% Pakistanis are of the opinion that most of the state authorities are involved in corruption.

A nationally representative sample of adult men and women from across the four provinces was asked the following question, “Among state authorities, how many do you believe are involved in corruption? Do you believe it is none of them, few of them, most of them or all of them?” In response to this question, 5% said ‘none of them’, 31% said ‘few of them’, 39% said ‘most of them’, 17% said ‘all of them’, while 8% did not know/did not respond.

Question: “Among state authorities, how many do you believe are involved in corruption? Tell me for each group if you believe it is none of them, few of them, most of them or all of them?”
