6% decrease in perceived conflict between Pakistanis and foreign residents including refugees in Pakistan: Gallup & Gilani Pakistan History Project

(Islamabad), August 15th, 2023

In a Gallup & Gilani Pakistan National Survey conducted in the year 2012, a representative sample of adult men and women from across Pakistan was asked the following question, “In all countries there are often differences or conflicts between different social classes. In your opinion, how much disagreement or conflict is there between Pakistanis and foreign residents in Pakistan?” In response to this question, 45% said a lot/some differences, 49% said very little/no differences, 4% said they could not share any opinion on it and 3% said they do not know or gave no response.

Comparative Picture: This question was asked again in 2023 to allow a comparison to be made across the years. In 2023, now 39% said a lot/some differences, and 49% said very little/no differences, 8% said they could not share any opinion on it and 3% said they do not know or gave no response.

Trend Analysis: The proportion of people who are of the opinion that there are a lot/some differences between Pakistanis and foreigners residing in Pakistan have decreased by 6% in the past 11 years from 2012 to 2023, while those that believe there are very little/no differences remain unchanged.

This press release has been made as part of the Gallup Pakistan History Project which aims to release historical empirical polling data to wider audiences. The objective is to sustain and encourage empirical decision-making in Pakistan.

The study in Pakistan was conducted and released by Gilani Research Foundation and carried out by Gallup & Gilani Pakistan, the Pakistani affiliate of Gallup International. The recent survey was carried out among a sample of 1535 men and women in urban and rural areas of all four provinces of the country, conducted during 29 March to 07 April 2023. The error margin is estimated to be approximately $\pm 2-3$ percent at the 95% confidence level. The methodology used for data collection was telephonic surveys (CATI).

Aim and Rationale for Gallup Pakistan History Project

Bilal I Gilani, who is Executive Director at Gallup Pakistan, and the Director of Gallup Pakistan History Project explains the aim of the Project as follows: “Gallup Pakistan has been polling in Pakistan since 1979 (over 40 years). During this time, millions of Pakistanis have been surveyed by over a thousand interviewers of Gallup. In 2014, Gallup Pakistan has decided to release historical Public Opinion data and this Press Release is part of Gallup Pakistan’s History Project. This endeavor is dedicated to all those who hope for a more empirical understanding of Pakistani Issues”. For more information about Gallup History Project, please contact caf@gallup.com.pk
