Threat of drug addiction with respect to children worries 12% less among Pakistani parents now as compared to 2018: Gallup & Gilani Pakistan History Project

(Islamabad), August 22nd, 2023

In a Gallup & Gilani Pakistan National Survey conducted in the year 2018, a representative sample of adult men and women from across Pakistan was asked the following question, “Parents often worry about the following things regarding their children. Please indicate to what extent you worry about the following when it comes to your children: Drug addiction” In response to this question, 81% said very/ somewhat worried, 19% said less/ not at all worried.

Comparative Picture: This question was asked again in 2023 to allow a comparison to be made across the years. In 2023, 69% said very/ somewhat worried, 31% said less/ not at all worried, and 1% said they do not know or gave no response.

Trend Analysis: The proportion of people who are of the opinion that they are very/ somewhat worried regarding their children and drug addiction have decreased by 12% in the past 5 years from 2018 to 2023, while, those that are less/ not at all worried have increased by the same proportion.

This press release has been made as part of the Gallup Pakistan History Project which aims to release historical empirical polling data to wider audiences. The objective is to sustain and encourage empirical decision-making in Pakistan.

Aim and Rationale for Gallup Pakistan History Project

Bilal I Gilani, who is Executive Director at Gallup Pakistan, and the Director of Gallup Pakistan History Project explains the aim of the Project as follows: “Gallup Pakistan has been polling in Pakistan since 1979 (over 40 years). During this time, millions of Pakistanis have been surveyed by over a thousand interviewers of Gallup. In 2014, Gallup Pakistan has decided to release historical Public Opinion data and this Press Release is part of Gallup Pakistan’s History Project. This endeavor is dedicated to all those who hope for a more empirical understanding of Pakistani Issues”. For more information about Gallup History Project, please contact caf@gallup.com.pk
