Between 2005 and 2018, 32% more women (aged 15-49 years) had prenatal consultations when pregnant
Gallup Pakistan analysis using PSLM data series

(Islamabad), December 8th, 2023

In a Pakistan Social and Living Standards Measurement (PSLM) Survey conducted in the year 2005-06 and subsequently in years 2007-08, 2011-12, 2013-14, and 2018-19, a representative sample of Pakistani mothers between the ages of 15-49 years from across the country were assessed regarding their prenatal and postnatal healthcare. In response to the question “While you were pregnant with your last child, did you have any prenatal consultations?”, in year 2005-06, overall, 52% Pakistani mothers responded “Yes”. The affirmative response was highest in Sindh at 56%, followed by 54% in Punjab, 43% in KP and 36% in Balochistan.

Comparative Picture: In 2018-19, overall, 84% responded “Yes”, while the affirmative response now was highest in Punjab at 93%, followed by 76% in Sindh, 74% in KP and 58% in Balochistan.

Trend Analysis: The proportion of Pakistani mothers between the ages of 15-49 years that reported having prenatal consultations during their latest pregnancy increased by 32% on a national level between 2005-06 and 2018-19. At the provincial level, increases were recorded across all four provinces, the highest being in Punjab with 39% more pregnant women doing so, followed by 31% in KP, 23% in Sindh and 22% in Balochistan in the same time period.

This press release has been made as part of the Gallup Pakistan History Project which aims to release historical empirical polling data to wider audiences. The objective is to sustain and encourage empirical decision-making in Pakistan.

Aim and Rationale for Gallup Pakistan History Project

Bilal I Gilani, who is Executive Director at Gallup Pakistan, and the Director of Gallup Pakistan History Project explains the aim of the Project as follows: “Gallup Pakistan has been polling in Pakistan since 1979 (over 40 years). During this time, millions of Pakistanis have been surveyed by over a thousand interviewers of Gallup. In 2014, Gallup Pakistan has decided to release historical Public Opinion data and this Press Release is part of Gallup Pakistan’s History Project. This endeavor is dedicated to all those who hope for a more empirical understanding of Pakistani Issues”. For more information about Gallup History Project, please contact caf@gallup.com.pk
