Among parents who say their children have in the past or currently study with a Quran teacher, an overwhelming 80% say that their children went/go to the mosque to study from them: Gallup & Gilani Pakistan

(Islamabad) 23rd May, 2024

According to a survey conducted by Gallup & Gilani Pakistan, among parents who say their children have in the past or currently study with a Quran teacher, an overwhelming 80% say that their children went/go to the mosque to study from them.

A nationally representative sample of adult parents from across the country was asked the question, “Does or did the Quran teacher come home to read Quran to your children or do/did the children go to the mosque to read Quran?” In response, 19% said ‘Come home/used to come home’, while 80% said ‘Children go/used to go to the mosque’, and 1% said that they did not know or gave no response.

Question: Does or did the Quran teacher come home to read Quran to your children or do/did the children go to the mosque to read Quran?
